

Article Overview

Plastic fiber optic cable clips are available from multiple manufacturers and suppliers, including Essentra Components, Getek, Alibaba vendors, and Fiber Savvy, offering a variety of sizes, mounting options, and applications.

Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

Essentra Components offers a wide range of plastic snap-on fiber optic cable management clips, including standoff clips and 3-slot fiber clips. These clips support cable diameters of 4.5mm, 5.5mm, and 6mm, and can be installed via clip-on, screw, or adhesive mounting. They are suitable for telecommunication cabinets, data centers, and industrial applications, and free samples are available for testing before purchase . Getek specializes in FTTH system accessories, including plastic fiber optic drop cable clamps. They provide both standard and customized solutions for fiber optic installations, making them a professional supplier for residential and commercial fiber networks . Alibaba hosts multiple vendors offering fiber optic clips for outdoor and indoor deployment. These clips typically support 5-8mm cable sizes, feature press-fit designs, and are available wholesale with minimum order quantities starting at 10 units. They are ideal for distributors and large-scale network installations . Fiber Savvy provides a variety of fiber cable clips including nail-in, hammer-on, and right-angle clips. Their products are designed for secure cable management in networking and industrial applications, with options for threaded rods, eye lag screws, and powder-actuated nails. Clips are sold in bulk (e.g., 100 pieces per purchase) and are made from durable materials like spring steel for long-term reliability .

Considerations When Choosing a Manufacturer

- o Cable Diameter Compatibility: Ensure the clip supports the specific fiber optic cable size you are using.
- o Mounting Options: Choose between adhesive, screw, clip-on, or nail-in methods depending on installation requirements.
- o Application Environment: Indoor vs. outdoor use, exposure to UV, temperature, or mechanical stress.
- o Order Quantity and Pricing: Some suppliers offer small minimum orders, while others are geared toward bulk purchases.
- o Customization: For specialized installations, some manufacturers like Getek provide custom clip designs. These manufacturers and suppliers provide a comprehensive selection of plastic fiber optic cable clips suitable for both small-scale and large-scale fiber optic installations.
