

How much does a fiber optic connector cost in the Maldives

Article Overview

Fiber optic connectors in the Maldives typically range from $5 to $50 per unit, depending on type, quality, and whether they are pre-terminated or part of a patch cable.

Retail Pricing

For example, an LC-to-LC fiber patch cable (5 meters, OM3) is available on Desertcart Maldives, with prices including shipping, import duties, and local delivery, indicating that end-user costs for pre-terminated connectors and cables are generally in the $10-$50 range depending on length and fiber type (single-mode or multimode) . Pre-terminated assemblies or patch cables with multiple connectors tend to be at the higher end of this range.

Import and Wholesale Considerations

Maldives imports most of its fiber optics from India, Sri Lanka, and Turkey, with 26 shipments recorded between August 2023 and July 2024 . Wholesale or bulk purchases of fiber optic connectors may reduce the per-unit cost, but additional import duties, shipping, and customs clearance can increase the final price for local buyers.

Global Pricing Context

Globally, fiber optic connectors vary in price based on type and strand count. Simple single-mode connectors may cost $1-$5 per unit, while higher-performance or multi-strand connectors can reach $20-$50 per unit . Pre-terminated patch cables or assemblies, which include connectors factory-installed, are generally more expensive due to labor and quality assurance.

Summary

- o Basic connectors (SC, LC, FC, ST): $5-$20 per unit locally in the Maldives
- o Pre-terminated patch cables with connectors: $10-$50 depending on length and fiber type
- o Factors affecting cost: connector type, fiber type (single-mode vs multimode), strand count, pre-termination, shipping, and import duties For precise pricing, it is recommended to check local suppliers or online platforms like Desertcart Maldives, or consult import data for bulk procurement .
