

Article Overview

Taiwan has several manufacturers specializing in smart distribution boxes and industrial enclosures, including JOIEPACK, TAKACHI, and NexAIoT.

Key Manufacturers

JOIEPACK Industrial Co., Ltd. Based in Taiwan since 1980, JOIEPACK is primarily known for automated packaging machinery but also offers smart distribution stations as part of their industrial automation solutions. They provide complete packaging and automation lines, integrating smart control systems suitable for industrial applications, which can include smart distribution and monitoring capabilities . TAKACHI TAKACHI specializes in electronics and industrial enclosures, including plastic, aluminum, diecast, and stainless steel boxes. They offer customizable junction boxes and IP68 waterproof enclosures, which are commonly used for smart distribution systems. Their services include CNC machining, laser cutting, and overlay sheet manufacturing, allowing for tailored smart distribution solutions . NexAIoT NexAIoT focuses on Industrial 4.0 and IIoT solutions, providing system integration from field devices to cloud platforms. Their iAT2000 Cloud SCADA System connects equipment and facilities to cloud services, supporting protocols like Modbus, PROFINET, and EtherCAT. This makes NexAIoT a strong partner for smart distribution boxes that require IoT connectivity, remote monitoring, and AI-driven analytics .
